

Divided Into 2,500,000 Shares, Par Value $1.00 Each, Full-Paid and Non-Assessable.

[illegible]

25c PER SHARE,
 terms allowing investors to come in on even
 terms with them from the start.
 The value of these properties is so great, demonstrating such rapid increase and subscriptions have been made in such amounts that we do not subscribe and we are secured much longer at this figure, and we suggest prompt action in the part of all interested. A balance sheet of an opportunity equal in character to many of the Interoceanic balance sheets
 and that all reasonable expectations as to expansion and future living conditions are realized. As we stated last Sunday, the company is a business-reputable, we are sure,
 but as a business-reputable, we are sure,
 will be paid only out of earnings.
 On a business basis only we add: subscriptions
 The company's business properties is in the city of St. Louis, Mo.
 Make all checks, drafts, etc., payable to order of

ST. LOUIS SECURITIES CO.,
Suite 914 Wainwright Bldg.,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE HOLLOWAY.
Of No. 1002 Barton street, who celebrated their golden wedding Tuesday night.

The fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. George Holloway was celebrated Tuesday night at their home, No. 1002 Barton street. The supper and programme presented was arranged by their six children.

Only the relatives and intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Holloway were present. The "50" idea was carried out in every detail. There were but fifty invitations issued, the plates were marked with the figures, the floral decorations were in that form and the guests at supper were so seated at the tables that only fifty persons could be seated.

Mr. Holloway came to this city with his family when he was fifteen years old. For years at Fourth and Olive streets, 50 years ago. Mrs. Holloway, whose maiden name was Sarah, Jones, from an old French family, which was among the first settlers of St. Louis. Her mother and grandmothers were born in this city.

Her great-grandfather belonged to the Galtier family and when St. Louis was a settlement he owned a great part of what is now the downtown district. It is said he sold the present site of the Bank of Commerce for a cord of wood.

Mr. Holloway came to this city with his family when he was fifteen years old. For years

The supper was served at 5 o'clock in the parlor, which had been lincused with candles. The Reverend Father Dooley, pastor of the Assumption Catholic Church, was present and read the blessing for couples who have been married fifty years.

Among the guests were Mrs. Jane Morrison of No. 2134 Sherrindan avenue, who was Mrs. Hollweg's bridesmaid; Mrs. Morrison was Miss Ann Harty; The guests included Edmund Gulbor, now lives in Alabama, but owing to his age was not able to be present.

During the day many flowers and other remembrances from friends in St. Louis and abroad were received. After the supper there was a serenade by two bands and a programme of recitations and German songs by a quartet.

Mrs. Hollweg was born in Bavaria and is 55 years old. His wife was born in this city he was a member of the volunteer firemen and was afterwards a regular member of the department. For a long time he was foreman at the Charles Deck painting mill at Sixteenth and Spruce streets and afterwards went into the same business for himself. He was married to Miss Richard at St. Vincent's Church.

Mr. Hollweg's present residence is on land donated by General U. S. Grant, and next to it stands the frame house where Nellie Grant was born. One of Mr. Hollweg's daughters was also born in the same house. Of the twelve children born to Mr. and Mrs. Hollweg, there are but six living. They are Mrs. Charles Mueth, No. 2222 Iowa avenue; Mrs. Franklin O. Koehn, No. 2122 Arsenal street; Mrs. Julius Schaefer, No. 2122 Arsenal street; George J. Hollweg, No. 908 Ann avenue, and Andrew and Charles A. Hollweg, who live with their parents.

STOCK TAKEN FROM THE MARKET NOVEMBER 1st.

being actor, Giovanni D'Amico, all of the foremost in Italy, was so delighted with her performance that he had her engaged to play the part of the lady in the company formed by Mme. Pazzani. But she was not often seen in the theatre, and she was not a popular Italian public. Mme. Pazzani saw to it

Ernest H. Dusenberg of No. 3006 Manchester avenue was held up and robbed of $14 by two men and a boy on Ninth, between Market and Chestnut streets, yesterday morning about 1 o'clock. Dusenberg stated that the boy was about 14 years old and that he searched his pockets while the two men held pistols at his head.

WEARS WHITE SATIN.

"Duse dresses almost always in white tulle. Her gowns are loose and limp and dangle carelessly around her. She does not powder nor paint, even on the stage. She handles her pretty black hair up anyhow, and is quite proud of the one startling white hair that grows on her forehead.

being actor, Giovanni D'Amico, all of the foremost in Italy, was so delighted with her performance that he had her engaged to play the part of the lady in the company formed by Mme. Pazzani. But she was not often seen in the theatre, and she was not a popular Italian public. Mme. Pazzani saw to it

Ernest H. Dusenberg of No. 3006 Manchester avenue was held up and robbed of $14 by two men and a boy on Ninth, between Market and Chestnut streets, yesterday morning about 1 o'clock. Dusenberg stated that the boy was about 14 years old and that he searched his pockets while the two men held pistols at his head.

Joie Kelly of No. 100 Market street was arrested. She claims to have no knowledge of the robbery. A young man who gave the name of George Smith, and his address No. 243 Easton avenue, was ar-

For a long time after that the little girl had no honors of any kind and very little else, but poverty and suffering. Once, as her mother lay ill in a hospital, the child visited her daily to eat the remains of the soup that had been supplied the patient.

She was 14 years old when her mother died, leaving her without money enough to buy a black dress. For four years after this she played in one hamlet and another in bands of strolling actors, until her famous appearance as Juliet came at Verona, when

H. K. & T. OIL COMPANY, Trust Building, GALVESTON, TEX.
Or D. D. LANCASTER, Suite 14 Laclede Bldg. St. Louis, Mo.

PIERRE WILL BE PRESIDENT.
Reports of Crushing of Haytian Revolution Confirmed.
Kingston, Jamaica, Oct. 18.—Word has being actor, Giovanni D'Amico, all of the foremost in Italy, was so delighted with her performance that he had arranged to marry her to his only daughter in the company formed by Mme. Pazzani. But she was not often seen in the theatre, and her husband, a rich Italian public. Mme. Pazzani saw to it that she was not.